Description

A rare and very beautiful solid silver ewer from the Empire period. It bears three different hallmarks: a man's head facing forward with an 8 on the left and a 5 on the right, an eagle's head, and a rooster within a hexagonal hallmark. It has a black wooden handle, a very fine eagle's head spout, and a tripod base with palmette and claw feet. In excellent condition, it could use a polish. Dimensions: Height 17.5 cm, Width of body 6 cm, Width at base 7.5 cm, Depth 11 cm
