Description

This beautiful, substantial cigarette case from the 1930s, in the Art Deco style, is in excellent condition. Its elegant chevron pattern and finely lined scrapers are a testament to its elegance.

Hallmarked with the Minerva mark inside, it also features an engraved monogram within a frame of elegant stylized "MR" lettering. A quality piece that could also serve as a card holder - a healthy alternative! - a lovely gift, preserved by a careful owner. Weighing 125 grams, this pocket item is crafted from pure silver and is remarkably well-made, perfectly in keeping with the Roaring Twenties, a time when refined and distinguished pocket items were important and effectively underscored social status. A beautiful, flat, and practical box in perfect condition for a connoisseur of fine and precious items.
