Description

Antique interior sign for a tobacconist's shop. Made of bronze, it is signed by the "Siégel" firm in Paris. Circa 1920. A cut-out metal plate marked "TABACS" is removable and could be replaced with anything else. An internal LED strip replaces the old bulb system and illuminates the sign through the white plexiglass panel behind it. These signs, located inside the shop, served both to indicate the business and to illuminate the window display. Suspension chains are present. Length 125 cm, height 18.5 cm, depth 19 cm.
