

Turned Wooden Yarn Holder - Folk Art - 19th Century

220 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Solid wood

Diameter : 14,3 cm

Height : 30 cm

Description

Crafted by a master woodturning, resting on a wide flared base, this yarn holder is made from various wood species, assembled by gluing and then turned on a lathe. A ball of yarn is placed at the top of the object. The upper section is pivoting, rotating around the axis of a screw. A series of holes allows knitting needles to be inserted. Very good overall condition; a minor loss is visible beneath the base, as shown in the photograph.
