Description

A very beautiful mirror in stucco and gilded wood to hang above a fireplace or piece of furniture. The four sides are adorned with a beautiful molding depicting a frieze of finely decorated and chiseled drapery, with small flowers in between. Each of the four corners is embellished with a raised section composed of a shell, two acanthus leaves, and small flowers. Our mirror is topped with an openwork pediment featuring a central cartouche surrounded by acanthus leaves and flowering stems. A fine piece from the late Napoleon III period, this lovely mirror has retained a beautiful antique gold patina. The glass is original and in very good condition, with only a slight, barely visible oxidation over a three- or four-centimeter area. Note a few small losses of stucco, the most
