Description

An elegant pair of white opaline glass cornet cups, dating from the 19th century, resting on a richly crafted, finely worked gilt brass mount. The flared cups feature a luminous and delicate opaline glass, typical of 19th-century decorative production. The base is adorned with stylized foliage and decorative pink spheres, adding a touch of refinement and naturalistic ornamentation. The set demonstrates meticulous decorative craftsmanship, harmoniously blending glass and gilded metal. These objects could serve as decorative vases, ornamental horns, or trimmings, and integrate perfectly into a classic interior or a 19th-century decorative arts collection. Material: White opaline and brass. Period: 19th century. Dimensions: 13 × 9 cm. Condition: Good overall condition. A rare and
