Description

Polychrome pine and marble top. Dimensions: 85 x 155 x 68 cm. This console table is distinguished by its meticulous reinterpretation of the Neoclassical style. The marble top, garlands, rosettes, and fluted legs faithfully evoke the ornamental repertoire characteristic of the Louis XVI style and late European Baroque classicism. These reinterpretations of Neoclassical furniture emerged in response to a renewed interest in Antiquity and "pure" forms, in contrast to the eclectic exuberance of the 19th century. For the wealthy bourgeoisie, a piece of furniture like this console symbolized cultural prestige. This piece is particularly appealing due to the quality of its carving, the presence of the original marble, and its stylistic fidelity. Its design, combined with its Italian craftsmanship, makes it a piece with
