Description

A large, solid wood chest covered in thick, high-quality leather that combines robustness and elegance. The entire piece is adorned with metal studs arranged in decorative patterns, notably around large, dark brown leather circles on the front. The corners and edges are reinforced with additional leather strips secured with studs, ensuring increased durability and strength. The interior of the chest is lined with quilted red fabric, giving it a refined appearance. The trunk rests on four sturdy feet, also decorated with studs. The leather has a rich, patinated brown hue, lending it a vintage look. Furthermore, the leather embossing technique has been used to create arabesques on the lid of this chest. In the center, there is an emblem engraved on the leather surface, composed of several decorative elements, including a crown at the top, floral motifs, and scrolls. A coat of arms is positioned in the center, featuring a serpent coiled around a sword, symbolizing strength and courage, and is surrounded by a diagonal band. The richness of detail and the quality of the leather craftsmanship make this trunk an ideal decorative piece, perfect for storage and adding a touch of authentic charm to any interior. *Period: 1950 Excellent condition Shipping available in France and internationally.
