Description

In the style of the medieval revival inspired by Viollet-le-Duc, this exquisite pair of neo-Gothic candlesticks in silvered bronze, adorned with fleur-de-lis motifs, perfectly embodies the movement of rediscovering and reinterpreting medieval art that characterized the 19th century, particularly under the influence of the work and theories of Eugène Viollet-le-Duc. The architectural composition, the four-legged base with its flowing lines, the Gothic hooks and scrolls, as well as the twisted shaft punctuated with openwork volutes, reflect this then-fashionable neo-medieval aesthetic, driven by a taste for national history and the Gothic decorative vocabulary revived during the Napoleon III era. The openwork candle holder, with its stylized decoration reminiscent of
