Description

Art Deco platinum and diamond necklace, circa 1920, composed of a Figaro-link chain suspending a geometric pendant emblematic of the period. The pendant is centered with a lozenge-shaped onyx motif, enhanced by finely engraved platinum palmettes set with old-cut diamonds. The design is animated by five old-cut diamonds, including: one central cushion-cut diamond of approximately 0.70 carat, four diamonds of approximately 0.20 to 0.25 carat each. Estimated clarity SI to S2. A highly elegant jewel, representative of Art Deco aesthetics, combining contrasting materials, balanced geometry, and refined craftsmanship. Period: circa 1920 Specifications: Total weight: 11.30 g Chain length: 35.5 cm Pendant dimensions: 40 × 33 mm
