Description

A rare pair of Italian Charles X period state cabinets, crafted in mahogany. Each cabinet is topped with its original white marble slab, featuring clean, refined lines that lend the set a touch of timeless elegance. The fronts showcase carefully selected wood with symmetrical grain, highlighting the quality of the craftsmanship. The uprights are adorned with discreet carvings and small turned elements, resting on toupie feet, typical of the period. Each cabinet opens with two drawers and one door, fitted with original knobs and keyhole escutcheons, offering practical storage while maintaining visual harmony. The set forms a perfectly matched pair, ideal for framing a bed or for use as occasional furniture. Period: 19th century Style: Charles X / Restoration Materials: Mahogany, white marble
