Description

Italy, second half of the 19th centuryElegant set of six palm holders in carved and silvered wood, dating to the second half of the 19th century, reflecting a decorative production of classicist taste.Each palm holder features a vase-shaped body finely carved, enriched at the lower section with stylised leaf motifs, a domed lid with turned finial, and a square moulded base. The carved wood combined with the silvered finish gives the group a refined appearance and a pleasing luminosity.The original silvering is well preserved, showing natural wear and signs of age consistent with the period, enhancing the authenticity and historical character of the pieces.Striking decorative objects, ideal for liturgical settings, altars, private chapels, or as elegant decorative accents in period
