Description

A richly crafted and chased Empire-style chandelier in gilt bronze. It illuminates with six candle arms. The guilloché, faceted stem is attached to a central body adorned with eagles, tassels, and a chain of brass beads. The original gilding is beautiful, though it shows some stains and verdigris in the background of the chasing. One screw securing a light arm is not original (see photo). We have chosen to leave it as a candle light, but electrification is possible as the arms are hollow (the holes for an electrical cable are very narrow). A highly decorative and unusual chandelier. Late 19th century, circa 1880. Delivery in a wooden crate by carrier: EUR80 within France, EUR150 within the EU, and EUR500 for the rest of the world.
