Description

I present to you a pair of terracotta sculptures, signed by the talented Irénée Duriez, born in 1950. These works, numbered 1/8, rest on stone bases, giving them a presence that is both robust and refined. Each base bears the artist's signature, attesting to their authenticity and artistic value. One of the sculptures underwent professional restoration, carried out according to the highest standards, after a previous breakage. This respectful intervention preserved the integrity and aesthetics of the work, while guaranteeing its longevity. The restoration work, barely visible to the untrained eye, testifies to the care lavished on these unique pieces. Irénée Duriez is a sculptor renowned for his female figures, which he has depicted with an initially robust elegance, then with increasing purity and slenderness. Although bronze is often his preferred material, these terracotta sculptures reveal his exceptional mastery of this more delicate material. They illustrate his talent for capturing grace and movement, while maintaining an expressive power that leaves no one indifferent. The feminine silhouettes, with their clean lines and harmonious curves, embody a timeless beauty. Their posture, both dynamic and graceful, reflects Irénée Duriez's genius for capturing the very essence of femininity. The finely crafted anatomical details underscore the delicacy and precision of his art. These sculptures, by virtue of their rarity and quality, are major pieces for any art lover or collector. They will integrate perfectly into a contemporary or classic interior, bringing a touch of elegance and refinement. Their size and stone base make them decorative objects as well as works of art in their own right. Irénée Duriez left his mark on the history of sculpture with his unique approach and keen sense of aesthetics. These pieces, with their natural patina and subtle expression, are a tribute to his creative genius. They represent an artistic and cultural investment, while also providing daily visual pleasure. I invite you to discover these sculptures, which combine the strength of terracotta with the grace of feminine silhouettes. They are much more than simple decorative objects: they are works imbued with history and emotion. Perfect for enriching a collection or offering an exceptional gift, they are sure to appeal to discerning art lovers. Feel free to contact me with any questions or to reserve this unique pair, which will undoubtedly enhance your space.
