Description

Bust of a young woman in the Art Nouveau style by Emmanuel Villanis, the renowned sculptor (Lille 1858 - Paris 1914), trained in Italy and later working in Paris. His extensive body of work featured numerous well-known female figures from biblical, mythological, literary, and operatic traditions, including Aida, Cinderella, Esmeralda, Manon, and Thais. This early bronze piece is signed and numbered, retaining its original patina with minor scratches. It measures 27 cm in height and weighs 2.4 kg. Shipping with invoice and certificate of authenticity is guaranteed. Please feel free to contact us for any further information or to request additional photos. This bust can also be viewed in our 400 m<sup>2</sup> gallery in Lille, which also displays furniture, mirrors, paintings, sculptures, clocks, lighting, and other curiosities.
