Description

The Trocadero, 1900. Original color lithograph.

Published by Eugène Verneau, Paris.

Dimensions: Image: approx. 52.2 × 81.5 cm;

Sheet: approx. 64 × 89.5 cm. An emblematic lithograph by Henri Rivière, depicting a view of the Trocadero at the turn of the 20th century. This print reflects his exploration of the modern urban landscape, combining a structured observation of architectural space with a construction using planes and flat areas of color, characteristic of his Japonist aesthetic. The image is in excellent condition. The colors are remarkably fresh.

However, some uniform stains and soiling are present in the margins and in the sky, in the upper left corner, visible in the photographs. The work has not been restored and remains perfectly cleanable. Please refer carefully to the
