Robert Nicoidski was born in La Chaux-de-Fonds (Switzerland) on December 5, 1931. He died in Paris on October 23, 1996. He was a passionate painter; his works proclaim his fervent love for an art as essential to him as breathing. He could have been one of the major figures of the French art scene in the 1960s and 70s. He exhibited in various galleries in both Europe and the United States: Club 44 in La Chaux-de-Fonds, the art museum in the same city, the Musée Rath and the Musée de l'Athénée in Geneva, and the Bibliothèque Nationale in Paris. Galerie La Hune, Galerie Furstenberg, the Contemporary Gallery in
