Description

M. SEVASTIANOVA (?) (19th/20th century) Oil on canvas 64x53 cm "Woman in a Mockba" 1939 Signed, dated, and located upper right Signed in Cyrillic, this beautifully executed portrait is typical of Slavic painting from the School of Paris between the two World Wars. The painter, surely of Russian origin, has managed to express the noble and fierce character of his model and magnify the rich colors of the traditional costume in an expressionist style. Unframed
