Description

Large, life-size reconstituted stone statue on a marble base and a second stone base, depicting the infant Jesus, savior of humanity. The infant Jesus appears life-size, rising into the clouds to bless the earth, represented by a globe on which he rests. A beautiful and rather rare representation of the child in reconstituted stone, dating from the late 19th or early 20th century. It has a lovely antique patina; two fingertips are missing from the right hand, but overall it is in good condition. A beautiful statue that would be equally at home indoors or in a garden. Ideal for a chapel, church, or garden. Height: 82 cm. We deliver and ship worldwide; please contact us for a precise quote.
