Description

Oil painting by a 17th-century Dutch master, Still Life with Fruit, Wine, and Venetian Glasses. This painting is a striking depiction of opulence and abundance. Set upon a shimmering, dark red silk tablecloth adorned with gilt tassels, a magnificent arrangement of fruit captivates the senses. An orange, peaches, and other fruits are artfully arranged on a silver platter. To the right, two Venetian glasses are filled with exquisite wines; a finely crafted tall flute and a winged goblet add a touch of elegance to the scene. Jan Mortel (baptized October 16, 1652 - October 15, 1719). Please feel free to email us to receive the full text.
