Description

We present this elegant small Italian vitrine dating back to the 20th century (circa 1990s). A refined and very unique vitrine. Featuring a captivating design with a distinctive curved shape known as a "demilune." Crafted from walnut with exquisite walnut burl details that stand out for their unique grain, it features curved glass panels decorated with a ground finish that follow its distinctive shape. Inside, you'll find two glass shelves. We'd like to draw your attention to the mirror at the back, which creates a spectacular optical effect; the vitrine appears to have depth and be completely round! This vitrine is perfect for displaying a collection of precious objects such as ceramics, silverware, or small vases. The items on display will be visible from all sides thanks to the glass panels on the front and sides,
