Description

This elegant 1930 alabaster lamp is a rare testimony of the Italian Rationalist period, when form, function, and material were combined in perfect harmony. Created in Rome, at the heart of a pivotal era in 20th-century design, this table lamp stands out for its essential yet sculptural style, captivating collectors and lovers of historical design.Designed as a crater-shaped vase, the lamp is entirely hand-carved from high-quality Italian alabaster. The artisanal craftsmanship highlights the stone's natural translucency and delicate veining, enhanced by the internal illumination. When lit, the light softly filters through the alabaster, creating a warm, elegant, and refined atmosphere, ideal for sophisticated interiors.Preserved in perfect condition, the lamp retains all of its original
