Description

Magnificent antique washbasin from the early 1900s, restored by our furniture restoration workshop. It is ready to be connected, with new traditional brass taps. It has a white marble top in beautiful condition with just a few minor stains due to age. It retains its original tilting basin in earthenware known as "terre de fer" from Choisy-le-Roi (once filled, it must be tilted; the water falls into a zinc reservoir, which has been connected to a modern siphon; you only need to connect it to your drain). The cabinet is made of wood with a recently patinated gray/green finish. Its dimensions in cm: 90 x 65. Height 81 cm at the top, rising to 116 cm at the top of the marble. This item can also be viewed at my shop in Morbihan, southern Brittany, where you can collect it if you wish. For the price of delivery,
