Description

We present an extraordinary pair of authentic Murano glass chandeliers from Venice, Ca' Rezzonico model, true masterpieces with remarkable visual impact and outstanding craftsmanship. Blown in the renowned Pauly glassworks in the early 20th century, these chandeliers perfectly combine Murano tradition, decorative imagination, and technical excellence. Crafted in refined glass paste, the chandeliers take the evocative form of two trees, with branches and leaves arranged in various positions, creating a dynamic and natural effect. On each branch sits a nest of birds of paradise, all different in shape and color, a rare and precious decorative feature that makes each piece unique. The complexity of the workmanship and the richness of the details testify to the excellence of
