

Pair Of Palms, 18th Century, With Murano Glass Beads

1 400 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Glass

Height : 56

Description

We present an extraordinary and rare pair of decorative floral palms, a true example of high Italian artistic craftsmanship, created in the late 18th century. These highly charming pieces are finely hand-embroidered with precious Murano glass beads (Venice), crafted in a refined multicolored palette that lends brightness, depth, and elegance to the overall composition. The palms, symbols of victory, spirituality, and nobility, stand out for the exceptional quality of their materials and the complexity of their execution, the result of artisanal expertise that is rarely seen today. Every detail is executed with meticulous care: the Murano beads, applied one by one, create a rich and vibrant decorative effect that captures the eye and enhances any setting. The palm bases are made of silver mecca

Dealer

Bruno Bernardi Gallery
Antiquities

Mobile : 00393482430869

Vicolo del Voltone n.11

Rimini 47921

finish, a highly refined treatment that further emphasizes the historical and aesthetic importance of the pieces. With a height of 56 cm, these palms are perfectly suited for display in representative spaces, private collections, or classic and eclectic interiors, adding a touch of rare elegance and uniqueness. An exclusive acquisition for collectors and connoisseurs seeking a rare, decorative object of significant historical and artistic value. We ship worldwide via FedEx-UPS-DHL with professional packing and insurance. Shipping throughout Europe to be agreed upon. Payment by bank transfer, Visa, Mastercard.