Description

A beautiful example of the explorations and research of ceramicist and sculptor Helmut Schaffenacker (1921-2010) is this large, two-necked vase decorated with a horse and rider. A rare piece on the market. Very good condition. 27 cm high x 33 cm wide x 12 cm deep. Helmut Schaffenacker was born on July 5, 1921, in Ulm, Germany, into a family of artists: his father was the painter Otto Schaffenacker. He completed his initial training, then studied sculpture with Rudolf Pauschinger in Stuttgart, and opened his own studio, "Atelier Schaffenacker," in Ulm in 1948. He worked with various materials: ceramics (vases, wall reliefs), wood sculpture, stone, metal, and paint. From the 1950s onward, he became known for his ceramic wall panels with reliefs, and his forms then moved away from the purely
