Description

Elegant rectangular mirror in the Restoration style, framed with a carved and gilded wooden molding. The frame features a refined decoration of scrolls, florets, palmettes, and volutes, finely chiseled on all four sides, evoking the Neoclassical aesthetic. An egg-and-dart frieze surrounds the large mirror. The meticulously carved woodwork testifies to demanding craftsmanship, while the antique gold gilding lends the whole a subtle warmth and a sought-after visual depth. This mirror embodies the understated elegance and taste for classical references characteristic of the Restoration period. It integrates charmingly into an interior blending period furniture or more contemporary compositions. Period: Mid-19th century. Very good condition. Shipping available
