Description

Black lacquered leather sabretache, suitable for undress or field dress. Three 32mm diameter silver-plated brass suspension rings. The guard is adorned with a large silver-plated cast brass eagle and a similarly cast and silvered crown. The edge is stitched with multi-strand silver thread. The straps pass through and are held by a leather thong (which cannot be removed without damage). The pocket is lined with herringbone canvas and closes with a leather button. There are some losses and wear to the leather, which, despite the presence of polish, is very dry. Height: 33cm Width at top: 20cm Width at widest point: 28.5cm
