decorative work of art and a collector's item, reflecting the refined taste and lifestyle of the 1950s. Starting in the 1930s, Jules Leleu (1883-1961) established the textile department of the Leleu company. His daughter, Paule, notably designed the first rug creations before becoming the department's director. The patterns of Jules Leleu's rugs perfectly complement the shapes and materials of the company's Art Deco furniture. Jules Leleu tapestries utilize the finest wools and are mounted using the knotted pile technique.
