Description

A very elegant amber-colored cut crystal liqueur decanter, dating from the late 19th century, the Napoleon III - Belle Époque period. The pear-shaped body is richly decorated with deep cuts featuring star motifs, diamond points, and crosshatching, revealing a superb brilliance. It has its original, finely cut stopper and a delicately ribbed clear crystal handle. The quality of the cut and the warm amber hue are reminiscent of the productions of major French crystal houses such as Baccarat, Saint-Louis, or Val Saint-Lambert around 1890. Perfect condition, without chips or cracks. Delivery within Metropolitan France: EUR50
