Description

An elegant pair of finely chased and gilded bronze wall sconces, each with two lights, adorned with graceful cherubs in the round. Each sconce features a rich rocaille decoration characteristic of the Louis XV style, composed of asymmetrical scrolls, flowing foliage, and floral motifs, enhanced by a patinated putto that contrasts delicately with the gilding. The elegantly curved arms are finished with molded bobèches, offering a beautiful balance between decorative refinement and functionality. The original gilding has a warm patina, attesting to the age and quality of the workmanship. A French piece from the late 19th century, circa 1900, it reflects the historicist taste of the period, paying homage to the decorative refinement of the 18th century. These wall sconces will find their perfect
