Description

Charming pendant cross crafted from finely engraved transparent plexiglass, adorned with a delicate design of stylized flowers and foliage. The engraving, both precise and delicate, plays with the material's transparency, creating a beautiful effect of depth and light. This piece perfectly illustrates 20th-century decorative art, where plexiglass, a modern and innovative material, was used for elegant and accessible creations, often inspired by nature. The bail is made of gold-tone metal (likely brass), allowing for immediate wear on a chain or ribbon.
