Description

Beautiful period ceiling light, crafted in Italy around the 1960s and fully restored recently. The finely worked bronze frame supports an abundance of pointed, cut and faceted crystal drops that catch the light from the 6 small Edison screw, E14 (two facing upward toward the ceiling and the other four facing downward) amplify it, and produce an exceptional brilliance. Thanks to its meticulous restoration, this fixture has regained all its original radiance, offering a decorative presence of considerable impact.
