Description

This fine 19th-century ivory sculpture, probably of German origin, depicts a full-length armored nobleman executed with remarkable craftsmanship. Carved in the round, the figure displays exceptional attention to detail in the armor, facial features, hair, and the plumes of the helmet. Standing in a dignified pose, the nobleman holds a lance in his right hand and a decorated shield in his left, reflecting Renaissance-inspired iconography reinterpreted through 19th-century decorative taste. The sculpture rests on an elegant stepped base composed of ivory and polished ebony elements, enhancing the visual contrast and overall refinement of the piece. A high-quality example of European decorative sculpture, the work is accompanied by CITES documentation, in
