Description

An interesting and rare gouache dated 1944 depicting a Madonna and Child in a rather modern pictorial style. The work is signed in the lower right corner by Hans Baumhauer (1913-2001), a painter of the German school who was also a renowned stained-glass artist, sculptor, and mosaicist. A native of Munich, he participated in the construction of numerous churches in southern Germany, Switzerland, Luxembourg, and Israel. Among his works, the restoration of the stained-glass windows of Freiburg Cathedral and the stained-glass window he created for the Great Synagogue of Jerusalem are often cited. Note: one of the attractions of this work is its relative rarity on the market. Although the artist often devoted himself to sacred art, religious works are virtually nonexistent on the
