

Turned Boxwood Powder Flask - 19th Century - In Very Good Condition

95 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Solid wood

Diameter : 5

Height : 17

Description

Powder flask made of turned solid boxwood. The wood has a superb, smooth, deep honey patina, typical of high-quality objects from the 18th and 19th centuries (Napoleon III/Third Republic period). The turning is of great finesse with a pronounced grip on the upper part. The removable spout fits perfectly onto the body of the flask with a precisely turned threaded screw, ensuring an airtight seal. In very good condition, with no restoration, the wood's polish retaining its original luster. o Shipping: Free for France and Corsica o Careful packaging - Tracked shipping within 24/48 hours o Payment: Credit cards, bank transfers, or PayPal

Dealer

Galerie NAKKAYA

Art - Antiquités - Objets de Collection - Trésors oubliés

Mobile : 0626730929

Clamart 92140