Description

Elegance, symbolism, and technical mastery merge in this extraordinary series of paintings by Master Giovagnoli, the renowned and controversial artist from the Republic of San Marino. Created in the early 20th century, these works capture the eye through their refined detail and profound meaning. Each panel depicts an impeccably crafted hand holding a precious silver bowl filled with fresh fruit. The focal detail is the pinky ring, an unequivocal symbol of nobility and distinction, which elevates the scene to a representation of absolute purity and superior rank. The softness of the skin contrasts with the cold reflection of the silver and the vibrant colors of the fruit, creating a triptych of rare decorative beauty. Available in two sizes (h.60 x w.38 cm and h.35 x w.30 cm), these panels are perfect for
