Description

Hand-hewn and hand-carved white stone tubNorthern Italy, 18th century.Tubs of this type, without holes in the bottom,were used, among other things,for decanting olive oil.Decorated on the front with a diamond-shaped engraving.The four corners are beveled verticallyto prevent injury from bumping into them.The same beveling on the base suggests that it was placed on a medium-height plinth.Iron hooks were embedded in the edges,probably used to move it.Only the front hook remains intact.Thanks to the two holes, it can be usedas a drinking trough, a flowerpot, or a sink.The dimensions indicated are the maximum.The internal dimensions of the holes are 34 x 44 cm.The internal depth is 42 cm. BUY NOW
