Description

A beautiful wax holder or wax cone holder from worked, turned, and cut bronze or brass, late 18th century. It is surmounted by a pair of spring-loaded, scissor-like jaws that hold rolled wax wick. Upper handles are connected by a spring, and the turned central stem, adorned with rings, is riveted to the lower circular platform, which is engraved and bordered by two engraved rims. A small thumb handle allows for carrying. It is marked with the maker's stamp: WR. A lovely model in its simplicity, 13 cm high, 14 cm wide. In good overall condition, no flaws. A rare and decorative light fixture! Flanders or Northern Europe. Available for immediate purchase, payable by credit card or PayPal. - eclectic - We are not experts, but have been in the business for over 50 years. Hassle-free refund in case of
