Jean-Jacques Morvan, a versatile French artist--painter, sculptor, engraver, and writer--was born in 1928 in Paris to a Breton family. He died on September 4, 2005. Morvan decided to dedicate himself to painting after finishing his studies in 1944. His first solo exhibition took place in 1951. From 1954 onward, he made numerous trips to Mediterranean countries, which profoundly influenced his painting. In 1957, he bought a house in Provence near his friends René
