Description

A sculptural embodiment of French Art Deco elegance, this wooden pedestal from circa 1925 exudes architectural poise and decorative sophistication. Crafted in solid wood with a warm, polished finish, the piece features a cylindrical form with a flared base and subtly rounded top. Its silhouette both functional and sculptural, echoing the geometric purity that defined the era. Vertical fluting along the shaft contrasts with the horizontal ridges of the base, creating a rhythmic interplay of line and texture that reflects the movement's fascination with symmetry, proportion, and stylized ornamentation. The craftsmanship is refined yet assertive, with a tactile surface that reveals the natural grain of the wood while embracing the streamlined aesthetics of modernity. This pedestal
