Description

This mahogany extendable side table, made in the 1960s, elegantly illustrates the inspiration of the English style. Its elegantly turned central column extends into four equally turned legs, finished with discreet sabots that ensure stability and harmony. The circular top, both understated and inviting, reveals the full nobility of polished mahogany. Ingeniously designed, it extends to accommodate up to three 30cm leaves, transforming this convivial side table into a generous dining table ideal for seating up to 8 guests. Both functional and timeless, this piece combines traditional craftsmanship with English charm. Period: 1960 Excellent condition. Waxed finish on a hard base. Delivery possible in France and internationally upon request. Dimensions: Length: 106cm to 196cm
