Description

Attributed to Jules Guédy (1840-1908) View of Grenoble and the Isère River - Oil on canvas, 19th century. This oil painting is attributed to Jules Guédy (1840-1908), a landscape painter from the Dauphiné region renowned for his views of Grenoble, the Isère River, and Alpine landscapes. The composition depicts a lively scene along the banks of the Isère River in Grenoble, with its stone bridges, the facades of the old town, and wooden boats and rafts in the foreground, while the snow-capped Alpine range stands out on the horizon beneath a delicately nuanced sky. The work is distinguished by its balanced composition, a soft and luminous palette, and a subtle treatment of water and reflections, characteristic of Jules Guédy's style. The finely rendered figures bring a touch of everyday life typical of late 19th-century realist landscape painting. Oil on canvas with a beautiful antique patina, mounted in a period giltwood and stucco frame decorated with fluting and foliage, perfectly consistent with the period of its creation. A French work from the second half of the 19th century, sensitively and precisely illustrating the atmosphere of the Dauphiné region and its iconic landscapes. Dimensions with frame: 82 x 74 cm
