Description

How far we've come since our ancestors marveled at mountain images, which they could slide into their cameras and adjust to their vision by sliding the photos... Nostalgia? Perhaps. A curiosity from the past, certainly. The Imperial advertising lithographed metal sign has been used countless times since 1900... I've found a website that discusses it in detail (<https://vintageviewers.com/npg-stereo-viewers>). My camera is in very good condition and comes with ten stereoscopic photos.
