Description

In the world of collecting, one rarely encounters objects that blend functionality with institutional history like this "Pair of 1930 museum wooden pedestals". These pieces, originally created for museum exhibition furnishings, carry the rigorous elegance and solidity typical of 1930s design. Standing at an impressive height of 150 cm with a 57x57 cm base, these pedestals are the ideal support for those wishing to display sculptures, precious vases, or art objects with the dignity they deserve. The wooden structure, preserved in excellent overall condition, reflects a build quality designed to last and to uphold the prestige of important collections. Their clean, solemn lines allow them to be seamlessly integrated into both period interiors and modern lofts, adding a touch of refined austerity and
