Description

An elegant Napoleon III style column crafted from solid mahogany, enhanced with rich, finely chased bronze mounts. The fluted and reeded shaft features intricately carved asparagus motifs. The ornamentation is distinguished by sculpted laurel wreaths entwined around the shaft. A wide egg-and-dart frieze running along the base adds a touch of majesty to the whole. The square, swiveling top is carved from sumptuous Aleppo breccia marble, its warm, veined hues contrasting harmoniously with the depth of the wood and the brilliance of the bronze. This column, both functional and decorative, embodies the refinement of 19th-century decorative arts, ideal for showcasing a sculpture or a precious vase. Circa 1900. Excellent condition after restoration in our cabinetmaking workshop. Waxed finish.
