Description

This 14k yellow gold (585/°°) brooch meets the highest standards of fine jewelry. Its butterfly motif allows the full spectrum of precious stones to be showcased on a large scale. Diamonds, set in white gold, adorn the body, with a larger central stone, and the edges of the wings, while the wings themselves are rendered in vibrant hues with sapphires, rubies, and emeralds. The unique character of this brooch lies in its highly elaborate setting, known on older pieces as "trembleuse."

This technique allows certain parts of the jewel to move and be sensitive to movement, thus enhancing its brilliance and vibrancy. It is particularly well-suited to the butterfly motif, causing its wings to flutter with every movement. It proves particularly effective here, thanks to the addition of high-performance springs at the rear
