

Monumental Double-leaf Door - Late 18th Century (late 1700s)

3 200 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Painted wood

Width : 150

Height : 270

Description

Pair of antique Italian doors (Piedmontese or Northern Italian style) in original grey-green lacquer, dating from the late 18th century. Crafted with refined neoclassical lines, they feature an elegant curved and raised pediment (low-arched tympanum) topped by a richly moulded, sinuous cornice, typical of the period's high craftsmanship. The double-panel leaves are framed by sophisticated concave and convex mouldings that lend movement and lightness to the surface. They retain their beautiful original matte grey-green lacquer patina, with natural signs of age and wear that enhance their authentic antique appeal. Original lock (key included). Dimensions: Including frame: Height 270 cm × Width 150 cm Clear opening: Height 259 cm × Width 124 cm Origin: Northern Italy.

Dealer

Il Rigattiere di Martini

Antiques

Mobile : +393392392619

Via Aurelia nord 92

Grosseto 58100

Period: Late 18th century.

Condition: Excellent state of preservation, original unrestored lacquer, minor consistent signs of use for its age. Price quoted per single door (available as identical pair).

A collector's piece ideal for prestigious residences, grand entrance halls, libraries or as a striking architectural and decorative feature.