Description

Tripod vase with Putti in Bronze by Barbédienne signed Barrias Art Nouveau late 19th century This small tripod vase in gilded bronze is an ode to the vegetal grace and to the organic sculptural art that is the Art Nouveau emerging from the end of the 19th century! Carried by three feet elegantly tied with floral garlands, the body of the vase and its two handles are wrapped with vines that come to embrace a small putti in bas relief with tenderness. The patinated bronze reveals subtle golden bronze reflections, while the interior is delicately gilded with fine gold. It can contain a candle like small flowers. Signed Barrias, the famous sculptor of the Belle Époque, and edited by Ferdinand Barbedienne, renowned Parisian bronze foundry master in the 19th century, this vase embodies the savoir-faire and the
