

Roman Intaglio: Head Of A Man, Two Ears Of Whea, A Galley

380 EUR

Period : Before 16th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Semi precious stone

Description

Roman intaglio: Head of a man facing left, surrounded by two ears of wheat; in the lower register, a galley. Calcined agate. 11.5 x 10 x 3.5 mm. 0.57 g.

The portrait is reminiscent of that of Octavian. An interesting and unusual motif for a charming intaglio. The stone has been calcined and exhibits surface cracks.
